RELEASE/AUTHORIZATION FORM

I am participating/am allowing my child, _____, to participate in Iron Horse Guest Ranch' camp/clinic with the understanding that I will not hold Iron Horse Guest Ranch, Niki or Alex Henson, Debbie or Victor Wilcox, their family or employees, liable for any accident or injury to me/my child, any person accompanying me/my child, or to my child's horse, while on the premises of Iron Horse Guest Ranch or while in the care of the above stated. Nor will I hold the above responsible for any loss of, nor damage to tack, clothing or equipment left at Iron Horse Guest Ranch due to accident, theft or fire. I give my permission for any photographs or videos taken of me/my child during camp to be used for promotional purposes without compensation. I understand and agree that: These activities will be on a working horse ranch and on and around horses. I realize that even under well supervised conditions, there is still risk involved. Horseback riding is classified as rugged adventure recreational sport activity and there are numerous obvious and non-obvious inherent risks always present. Horses are 5 to 15 times larger, 20 to 40 times more powerful, and 3 to 4 times faster than a human. If a rider falls from a horse to the ground, it will generally be at a distance of from 3.5 to 5.5 feet, and the impact may result in injury to the rider. Iron Horse Guest Ranch chooses lesson horses for their calm dispositions and sound basic training, as is required for use as riding horses for novice and beginning riders, and Iron Horse Guest Ranch follows a rigid risk reduction program—still no horse is a completely safe horse. If a horse is frightened or provoked, it may divert from its training and act according to its natural survival instincts which may include, but are not limited to: stopping short, changing directions or speed at will, shifting its weight, bucking, kicking, biting, or running away from danger.
WARNING: Effective September 1, 1995, Texas State Law (Chapter 87, Civil Practice and Remedies Code) states that; "An equine professional is not liable for an injury to or the death of a participant in equine activities resulting from the inherent risks of equine activities".
